The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Picture of a Multi-Level Government in Action

Dell Lake, co-chairman of the Committee for Incorporation, said this week that those interested in the boundaries of the proposed City of Lemon Grove in an election scheduled for June, should attend the Local Agency Formation Committee (LAFCO) meeting on December 15 in Room 358, County Administration bldg., 1600 Pacific Coast Highway.

The meeting is scheduled for 9 a.m. and is open to the public.

Lake said that a La Mesa annexation proposal is to be held by the same body on the same day.

A hangup in the proceedings will be the 1.07 square miles north of freeway 94 — the bulk of which is along Massachusetts. Known as Vista La Mesa, the section extends to University. There is also a long, narrow strip stretching along the north side of the freeway from Buena Vista to Spring st. in La Mesa.

Problem 1: Residents of the north part of Vista La Mesa—roughly from Pearson to University — have no common interests with Lemon Grove. From Pearson, south, the area is in the Lemon Grove School and Fire Districts and a few days ago the residents turned in a petition with 250 names demanding to be included within the proposed boundaries of Lemon Grove.

There is enough opposition in the north part to eliminate a true decision on incorporation by those who reside in or identify with Lemon Grove. That area is likely to vote solidly against joining the proposed city.

Problem 2: A state law, according to LAFCO, requires that no area smaller than a square mile shall be an island, but any part removed from the north of the freeway would cut the balance to less than the minimum requirement.

Problem 3: County supervisors have indicated that the freeway is a natural boundary. Incorporation proponents claim such thinking is falacious since Murray Hills to the north presents a boundary more rational than a freeway. It has been noted that some cities have criss-crossing freeways.

Using Pearson as the north boundary would create a smaller-than-a-mile island but it would also keep together people of common interests. The problem could be solved by giving the north-of-Pearson residents a choice, by ballot, of joining Lemon Grove for incorporation or annexing to La Mesa since they will be required to do one or the other eventually.

Problem 4: If LAFCO demands freeway 94 as a north boundary, a parallel strip 200 feet deep into the Lemon Grove side must be included. That would make all of North ave. from Massachusetts to Olive st. part of the City of La Mesa.

La Mesa's interest in annexation, it is said, is population. This equates to more federal funds. Lemon Grove's thrust is for identity — a high ideal in self determination.

Problem 5: Those who do not doubt that there are too many levels of government in this Land of the Free should take another look. There are more and more decisions being mandated by non-elected people — taking responsibility off shoulders of elected officials who are chosen with the idea of serving the electorate.

In the matter of the boundaries, if left to each community to decide, a boundary agreeable to most could be determined.

But the nothing-or-all approach will produce a screwed-up mess that will leave many with the belief that their will has been thwarted. Such a situation will cause the people affected by such a decision to carry a strong dis-taste for the growing number of levels of government which perpetrates this idiocy.

Ronald Reagan Says:

"Everybody driving on the freeway in the rush hour is looking at the traffic and saying, 'we should have rapid transit because if we did all those people would be riding it and I would have the freeway to myself'."

Kresge's Out; Pic 'n Save In At S.V. Center

Pic 'n Save, a discount variety store, will replace the S.S. Kresge store at 637 Sweetwater rd., in the Spring Valley Shopping Center it was announced this week by Coldwell Banker Co. of San Diego.

The space is 30,000 square feet and the five year lease is for $213,500, the firm said.

Kresge's will remain in business there until after Christmas. Pic 'n Save will occupy the premises in early spring.

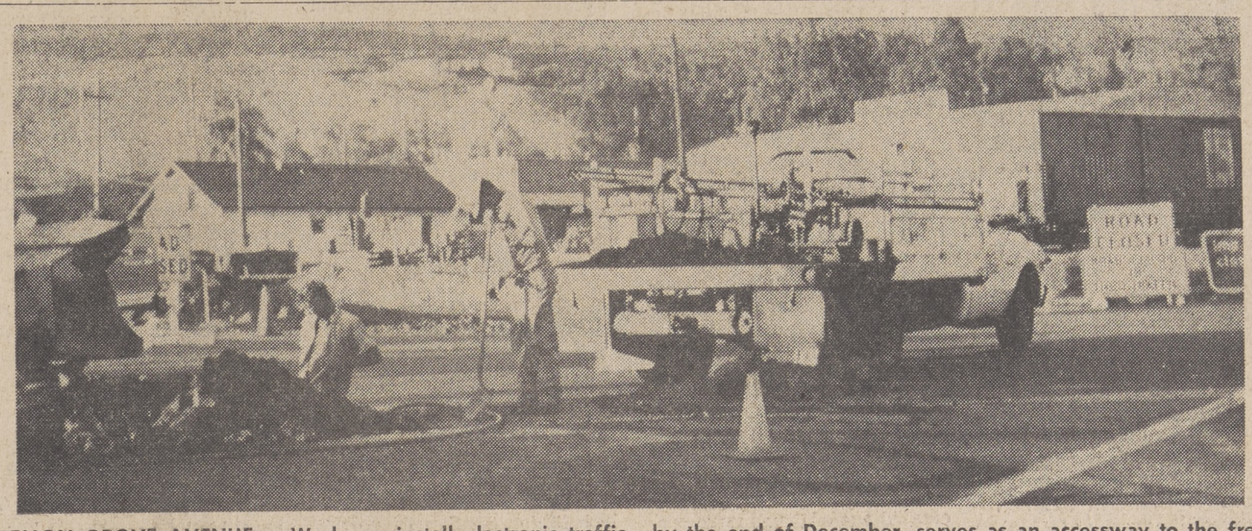
Mills Takes Post In Jackson Campaign

Senate President Pro Tempore James R. Mills (D-San Diego) has joined the Jackson for President campaign as the California Co-Chairman.

State Treasurer Jesse Unruh, Chairman of the California Jackson for President campaign and a participant in the Sacramento press conference, said "Jim Mills is a very able political leader and is an astute legislator who will be invaluable in shaping the California campaign."

"I believe there is no one more qualified to be President than 'Scoop' Jackson," Mills said. "Throughout 'Scoop's' 35 years in Congress, he has shown time and time again his foresight and leadership ability."

Senator Mills was first elected to the Senate in 1960 and became President Pro Tempore in January 1971. He has authored a wide variety of important laws. He is best known for legislation which provides several hundred million dollars annually to public transportation systems in California.



LEMON GROVE AVENUE — Workmen install electronic traffic sensing devices on Imperial ave. near the intersection of the new Lemon Grove ave. which will soon link freeway 94 with the heart of the Lemon Grove business district. The new street and overpass, expected to be open to traffic by the end of December, serves as an accessway to the freeway and as a pedestrian and vehicle route to the Murray Hills area. The old pedestrian bridge just east of the new bridge has already been demolished.

Old Time Parade Date Rescheduled For April 3; Horse Show Planned

Signals over.

Lemon Grove's annual Old Time Days celebration has been rescheduled. Again.

This time it's set for Saturday, April 3. Each of the other times it has been changed it has been for a good reason. The latest change is a conflict of parades. Lakeside's.

That, and other important intelligence was disseminated Thursday at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce's monthly meeting at Los Cazadores.

More on Old Time Days. This year there will be a horse show. Probably at L.G. Junior High school's playground. Dates are tentatively April 10 and 11. A community square dance is scheduled for April 10. Other events are in the making according to Leonard Klein and Harry Hinton, OTD and Parade chairmen, respectively.

In other business, Tom Stein, operator of Dutch Cleaners, was appointed to the board of directors replacing Bob Serr, who expanding business is taking most of his time.

The board set January 31 as Hockey Night. All residents are invited to attend that night and see the Mariners meet Cleveland in a World Hockey Assn. matchup.

Mt. Miguel, Helix Place High at Arcadia Review

The Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area was well-represented in the winners circles at the West Arcadia Invitational Band Review held Saturday for 36 high school bands from all over the state.

Mt. Miguel's Marching Matadors were judged 2nd place titleholders in the Class A band division, with Helix High's marching musicians placing fourth.

In Class A Drill Teams, the Helix High Hi-Steppers were judged best and awarded Sweepstakes. Mt. Miguel's drill team placed fourth.

Top solo majorette award was won by Mt. Miguel twirler Karen Eyler who has accumulated a long list of awards in her career as a baton artist.

The Long Beach All-Western review closes the competitive marching season on Saturday. 82 bands will compete. Miss Eyler was judged First Runner-Up in the competition for All Western Band Review Queen, the top solo majorette, last year.

The marching Matadors travel to Disneyland on Sunday to participate in the Bi-Centennial Parade.

Body Shop is Loser

John Perry Wilson, operator of an auto body shop at 611 Sacramento st., Spring Valley, lost his spray guns, impact tools, an auto body file and a "jitterbig" tool. He was out on a job, he said, and when he got back the items were missing.

The tools are worth $600, he told sheriff's deputies. The latter are seeking a suspect onto whom they can pin a grand theft charge.

Guessing Game Prize is $100

One of two black males who came for money brandished a blue steel revolver in Hi Lo Liquor store about 8:30 p.m. November 19. The gunman said to the clerks, "Guess what? Go over to the cash register and open it. Don't pull any alarm until we leave!"

With that, Glenn H. Blackman and Edward John Schoal, the clerks, handed the pair $100 from the register.

Both robbers were described as 6' tall, and 26 to 30 years of age. The older one appeared to weigh about 190 pounds; the other 170.

L.G. Crossing Aid Sought by Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (NEWSWEST) — The County Board of Supervisors will seek aid from the Lemon Grove Railway (SD&AE) for upgrading the newly installed warning signal at Broadway and Imperial due to the increasingly heavy cross traffic. This traffic will become more acute when the Lemon Grove off-ramp is opened in the next few weeks.

Railroad firms traditionally refuse to pay for safety lights or bells although they own the right-of-way.

There are 38 train crossings in the unincorporated areas of San Diego County.

Sheriff's Assn. in Separate Actions

Deputies File Libel Suit And Claim DA Harrassment

The San Diego County Deputy Sheriff's Assn. has filed a $1.5 million libel and slander suit against Davone T. Terrell and Richard E. White, two persons accused by the association of making statements that led to the reopening of an investigation in the death of Michael Nolan.

The action was announced by Association president Bud Fusaro at a news conference.

Fusaro, at the same time, accused the district attorney's office of harrassing deputies in investigating jail problems and in the death of Nolan. Nolan died of skull injuries following an arrest for drunken driving.

Fusaro said a doctor's report showed that death resulted from injuries probably received in a bar brawl earlier. Deputies William J. Cowles and Mark S. Meyer, who made the arrest, were cleared by the county grand jury but statements made by Terrell and White caused the case to be reopened.

Fusaro said deputy district attorney's investigators had threatened the jobs of various sheriff's personnel; threatened indictment, and had further harrassed members by going over the same questions—matters that had been previously covered.

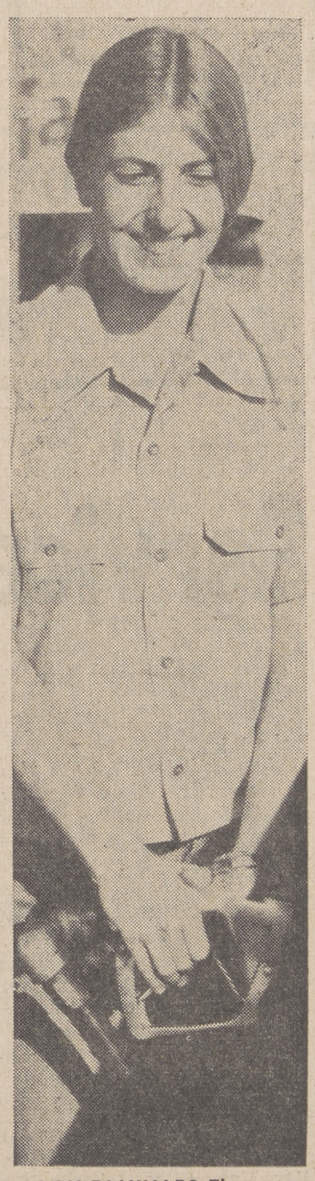
He said some forms of harrassment constitute civil rights violations. "Deputies are entitled to all civil rights belonging to other citizens," he said. Fusaro said the libel-slander suit and the resistance to harrassment was a reaffirmation of those rights.

County officials, specifically the board of supervisors, came in for Fusaro's criticism. He objected to Supervisor Jack Walsh's study proposal for hiring a police agency to patrol unincorporated areas. He also opposed Walsh's suggestion that a citizens committee be formed to oversee the sheriff's office.

Earlier, supervisors took steps to take from the sheriff the operation of the county jail but gave up when thousands of citizens signed petitions demanding that the jail's operation be left in the hands of the sheriff.

Regarding the latest imbroglio, Fusaro said that it seemed that the "district attorney's office is attempting to make a name for itself."

District Attorney Ed Miller said Fusaro's allegations are "utter nonsense."



LOOK FAMILIAR? The pretty girl seen occasionally manning the pumps at Smitty's Arco station, 8001 Broadway, is former Miss Lemon Grove (1974-75), Carol Klee. Miss Klee works part time at the station and attends Grossmont College. Her father, Leonard Klee, is the current president of the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees.

Furniture is Loot

The tenants had left an apartment complex at 2091 Berry st., Lemon Grove, in good shape — including all the furniture that was there when they rented it.

They vacated the premises on November 11.

On November 16, when Curtis E. Brown, apartment owner checked it out for a new tenant, he noted several items of furniture missing.

Included were tables, lamps, night stands, dining room chairs and mirrors.

He said his loss was $235.

Sheriff's deputies say the thief got in through a sliding glass door.

Neuter Service For Pets of Needy Owners

San Diego veterinarians will neuter pets of impoverished pet owners without charge, it was annouced by Dr. Robert Burns, chairman of the Veterinary Samaritans.

Dr. Burns is a long time Lemon Grove practitioner with offices on North ave.

It is a voluntary program on the part of members of the San Diego County Veterinary Medical Assn., Burns said. Each participating member has been involved in various spay programs at reduced fees with free surgery being donated on an individual basis. This is the first time the program has been publicized and the veterinarians involved will be identified.

Each Veterinary Samaritan has made a monthly commitment regarding the number of animals he will neuter. Each will display a certificate in his waiting room with additional information and application forms readily available.

"We want to reach those pet owners who really care for their animal. When they come in for the annual booster vaccination, you know they feed their pet and take care of it no matter what they may have left for themselves. Some are elderly on fixed low incomes, whose only family is their dog or cat.

Even though we are limiting this service to one animal a family, we feel every little bit helps," Burns said.

For the program to work as intended, each pet hospital has a set of requirements. One or more may be required, depending on the veterinarian:

1. Self-professed need statement signed by the applicant. 2. Medi-Cal card, or 3. Proven limited income.

Those who would use the service: 1. Check the local veterinarian first though many still limit the offer to their own clients first; 2. Pet must have had a proper vaccination against distemper; 3. Proof of need is required, 4. Be patient. Some hospitals are already booked up 6 months ahead.

Specific material can be obtained from SDCVMA office at 466-3400.

'Customer' Takes Tires

A prospective customer told Leonard B. Cartwright, asst. manager of the Acme Auto Dismantler, 7950 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, that he wanted some tires.

While Cartwright repaired to the rear of the shop to fill his order, the customer, a white male, about 23, made off with four Goodyear tires and chrome rims.

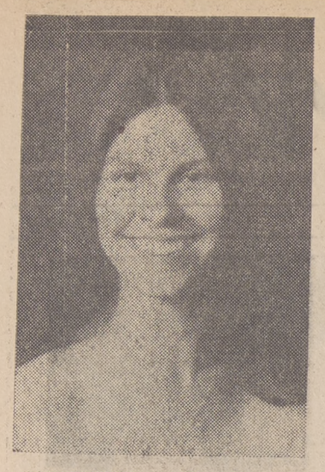
The loss, he said, amounted to $225.

Taste for Niceties

A thief with a taste for better things entered the home of Anthony J. Battala, 7805 Palm st., Lemon Grove, when he was away on November 15.

The thief's taste for good things ran to VO liquor and he took two fifths of it from the Battala cupboard. He also took a radio leaving the victim with a loss of $100.

AUTO FIRES — Lemon Grove firemen push a vehicle out of the way of rush hour traffic at Lemon Grove's busiest intersection, Broadway and Imperial, Monday afternoon after they extinguished a fire which started under the hood of the car. It was the second such fire in the area that day. Less than two hours earlier, an engine fire curbed a westbound motorist on Route 94 near Spring st.



NEWLYWED — The former Valerie Anne Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schaufler of 2525 Glebe rd., Lemon Grove, was married Saturday to her high school sweetheart Mark Lee Bennett, son of Mr. Kenneth Bennett of El Prado st.
Both bride and bridegroom were raised in Lemon Grove. They met at Mt. Miguel High school where they both graduated, the bride in June, 1975 and Bennett in June 1974.
The bridegroom joined the Air Force last year and is stationed at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. The couple will make their home in nearby Fairborn, Ohio.

LM-SV Schools to Shift Operations Center to SV

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District plans to move its maintenance, transportation and warehouse facilities from its present location to a site near Spring Valley Jr. High on Conrad st., Spring Valley.

Asst. Supt. for Business, Dr. Dale Hobson said that the district will sell a 4.7 acre parcel of land to the City of La Mesa as soon as the City finds a new developer. The land is a portion of the former La Mesa Elementary School on Allison and Date sts., near La Mesa City Hall. The present vehicle maintenance shop is on the property.

La Mesa Elementary was closed two years ago due to declining District enrollment. The building and grounds have since been used for special school services such as a day care center. The structure is not a part of the deal with the city.

Developer Backs Out

The firm working with La Mesa on a citywide redevelopment project backed out of its commitment to the project last week, temporarily halting the school property sale.

The City has agreed to pay $417,000 for the 4.7 acres plus $301,421 in relocation costs and another $28,000 in other costs, Hobson said.

The new operations center will be from 24,000 to 30,000 sq. ft. in size and will house school buses, a supply warehouse and maintenance and grounds facility, he said. It will be built on a portion of a 10-acre plot of land adjacent to Spring Valley Jr. High where there are presently four Little League baseball fields. Dr. Hobson said that not more than one of the fields would likely be removed to make way for the center.

Standard 8% Fee

La Mesa architect Robert Des Lauriers has been hired by the District to design the new center, preliminary schematics of which are now in progress despite the delay in the property sale. Des Laurier's commission will be 8 per cen of the project's cost, a standard fee for architects, according to Hobson.

RUNS DELI & CATERING— Sue Benedetto is a newcomer to the Casa de Oro business district. She and her husband Ben, with 25 years in the delicatessen business, operate Casa Deli and Catering at 9905 Campo rd. Medi-Cal to Repay Victims of Too Low Eligibility Standards

The State Department of Health will soon repay thousands of Medi-Cal beneficiaries who paid for medical care which should have been covered by the Medi-Cal program.

Medi-Cal is a federal-state health care program for California's low income population, serving 2.6 million persons.

A Superior Court decision benefits persons who were eligible for Medi-Cal as "medically needy" between September 1, 1971 and February 1, 1973, and who were required to pay a "liability," or share of cost, toward their medical expenses. Also included are persons who were denied Medi-Cal during the same period because they had too much personal property.

"Medically needy" persons are people who are aged, blind, disabled, or members of a family with dependent children (AFDC family), but who have too much income or other resources to qualify for cash assistance. Many of these persons are required to pay a "liability," or share of cost for medical expenses, quarterly before their Medi-Cal benefits can begin.

Sacramento County Superior Court Judge Irving Perluss ruled that both the medically needy income standards (called "maintenance needs") and the personal property standards used by Medi-Cal from September 1971 to February 1973, were too low according to federal regulations.

Persons who believe that they qualify for such refunds should contact their local county welfare department Medi-Cal office to determine if they are eligible.

CMA Notes New 'Street Drug'

A new "street drug" has gained prominence in the drug-abuse sub-culture, according to the California Medical Association (CMA). "Crystal" or "Peace pills" are two pseudonyms for phencyclidine, a drug which has been linked to 15 California deaths, says CMA.

Phencyclidine - intoxicated persons reportedly have died from drowning, fire and automobile accidents due to the drug's "interference with users' ability to sense imminent danger."

A white crystalline solid, phencyclidine is most commonly sprinkled on parsley and smoked as a cigarette. It also is one of the most frequently used primary ingredients of "street drug" preparations, CMA said.

A low dosage of the drug causes mild agitation or excitement, with users exhibiting a "blank stare" appearance. Higher dosages are characterized by vomiting, hypersalivation and disorientation.

The study of the drug is reported in the current issue of CMA's Western Journal of Medicine.

Letters To Santa

About this time each year, letters start pouring into the Post Office from young admirers of Santa Claus. Some bear proper postage; some don't.

The postmaster sends several to the north pole, but he realizes that Santa is only human and cannot take the time to read every single piece of mail sent to him. So, to help out during Santa's busy season, many letters are sent to this newspaper. Santa Claus, a subscriber to this newspaper, reads the letters printed in this column and saves precious time, too.

The first letter arrived this week:

Dear Santa,

I want a grocery cart full of toys & a candy making machine My sister Jianna wants a jewelry making machine My sister Elizabeth wants apair of booties & a little red dress.

Thank you,
Cathy

The survey, covering the first six months of 1975, showed that physicians' fees rose 5.9 per cent nationally, but 6.7 per cent in California and about 12 per cent in the Northern California counties where on May 1 physicians were hit with the first of a statewide series of stiff premium increases.

$104 Million in Sales Taxes Disbursed

Nearby city disbursements: El Cajon, $355,000; La Mesa, $200,000; and San Diego City $2,855,000.

Chargers to Try to Lose It (Streak) in Denver

The San Diego Chargers face the Denver Broncos at Denver Mile High Stadium Sunday bringing with them the league's biggest losing streak. Kickoff is 1 p.m. San Diego time.

San Diego is 0-10 after losing to the Minnesota Vikings, 28-13, at Minnesota Sunday. Denver is 4-6 after a 35-21 defeat to the Atlanta Falcons at Atlanta.

The Chargers and Broncos played two weeks ago in San Diego with Denver scoring 10 points in the fourth quarter for a 27-17. victory.

San Diego leads the series, 19-11-1. The Chargers have not won at Denver since 1968.

Andy Musser and Dick Van Raaphorst broadcast the game for KSDO. NBC Sports televises the game to San Diego over KGTV-10.

The Chargers succumbed Sunday to the unbeaten Vikings, 28-13, at snowbound Metropolitan Stadium, but not without a strong fight. San Diego had a chance to pull into a 14-14 tie late in the third quarter only to fail on four cracks into the line from the Minnesota one.

Playing his first full game of the season, quarteback Jesse Freitas completed 15 of 23 passes for 174 yards with touchdowns of 32 yards to Gary Garrison and 16 yards to Dwight McDonald.

Tight end Pat Curran caught four passes for 44 yards to raise his season's totals to 38 for 463 yards, fourth in the AFC. Garrison caught three passes for 61 yards.

Middle linebacker Tom Graham contributed on 14 tackles. Chris Fletcher and Mike Williams intercepted passes.

Charger rookie Mike Fuller, who has excelled all season running back punts, displayed his prowess at passing and catching the football against Minnesota last Sunday.

The 5-foot-9, 195-pound third-round draft choice from Auburn made these two big heads-up plays:

—As holder on placements, Fuller fielded a wild center snap after the Chargers' first touchdown. He ran to his left and tossed a perfect left-handed pass to tight end Pat Curran for the extra point which tied the score at seven.

"Pat made the good play by being open for the pass," said Fuller, who revealed that he had once thrown a touchdown pass for Auburn in the Gator Bowl as a sophomore running back. "I was 1-for-2 as a passer in college."

—As a wing man on punt coverage, Fuller caught on the fly a 37-yard punt by Dennis Partee on the Viking one-yard line.

"We practice doing this," said Fuller, who made this rare play once before this year. "I have an advantage because I also practice the punt returns."

Fuller is sixth in the AFC in punt returns with a 10.9 average. He had a 20-yard return against Minnesota, which was ruined by a blind-side tackle.

"I'm going to run one all the way before this season is over," Fuller vowed.

Gary Garrison needs four more catches to reach a career milestone of 400. Only Fred Biletnikoff of Oakland exceeds Garrison among active AFC receivers.

The Chargers play their third successive road game against the Kansas City Chiefs on Sunday, December 7.

Mats to 'Wait a Year' For CIF Playoffs Chance

By Steve De Nunzio

Year after year when the old Brooklyn Dodgers would lose to the Yankees in the World Series, Dodger fans would always say, "Wait till next year."

Mt. Miguel Matador football fans are going to have to wait till next year to win the CIF playoffs. The Kearny Komets eliminated the Matadors from post season play 20-6 Friday night.

Kearny was a 14 point favorite but Mt. Miguel gave Kearny one of its toughest games of the season.

The game was close until Kearny turned a Miguel fumble and an interception into scores.

By winning, Kearny will go to the County quarterfinals Friday where they will oppose Oceanside.

Predicted Last

However, Mt. Miguel should be pleased with the way the season turned out. The red and black squad was predicted to finish last, but instead tied for second in the tough Grossmont League. And no one expected Mt. Miguel running back Bill Stuart to rush for 1,018 yards.

Football season is over but the athletic year for Mt. Miguel is just beginning. Basketball season is just around the corner. Last year's number two team comes here December 12th when the Braves from El Cajon invade the Matador gymnasium.

Canadians to Spice Week's Hockey Fare

San Diego has a chance to move up on division-leading Houston when the Mariners host a couple of Canadian foes this week in WHA action at the Sports Arena.

San Diego meets Quebec tonight and Calgary, Saturday, with games set to begin at 7:30.

The WHA West has found San Diego, Minnesota and Phoenix all taking turns trying to overtake two-time AVCO Cup champ Houston with as few as four points separating the four clubs.

Coach Ron Ingram's skaters have only two wins and a tie in seven engagements with Canadian teams and have lost three straight to Edmonton, the latest being a 3-2 overtime nod, Saturday, in San Diego.

Relief For Defensemen

Ingram is encouraged with the return of injured defensemen Jim Hargreaves and Mike McMahon to the lineup. They will help the overworked quartet of Brent Hughes, Bob Falkenberg, Bob Wall and Kevin Morrison.

Additionally, center Andre Lacroix, the league's all-time scoring champ and twice winner of the WHA point title in three years, continues to come on after a slow start and now lists six goals and 13 assists in 17 games.

Goaltender Ernie Wakely is currently among the WHA's top five netminders with a 3.24 goals against average while backup Russ Gillow has a 3.03 GAA but has not seen enough activity to be listed.

In a roster switch, San Diego has recalled winger Jamie Bateman from Central League Tucson and assigned winger Bill Goldthorpe to North American League Binghamton.

Snowmobilers Must Register Vehicles

Now that the snow is falling regularly in the mountains and enthusiasts are tuning up their snowmobiles, State Motor Vehicles Director Herman Sillas has reminded owners of the little snow buggies that they must be registered with DMV before they can be transported or operated legally in California.

Snowmobile registration costs $15, the same as other off-highway vehicle fees. The fee covers a two-year period which expires in June of the second year.

School Desk Taken

An antique school desk worth $100 was taken from the porch of the home of Linda R. Perry at 2882 Skyline dr. in Lemon Grove.

The loss occured on November 18 while she was occupied inside her home, she reported.

General Admission seating will also continue to be available in leftfield.

Mariners Give Sails' Fans Hockey Tickets

The WHA Mariners will provide two complimentary tickets to each season ticket holder of the defunct ABA San Diego Sails, according to Mariner general manager Ron Ingram.

We are upset about the loss of the Sails and we want their season ticket holders to know we appreciate their support of professional sports in San Diego," Ingram commented.

The tickets will be sent to all Sails season ticket holders and are for the December 11 game when the Mariners meet Indianapolis at the Sports Arena.

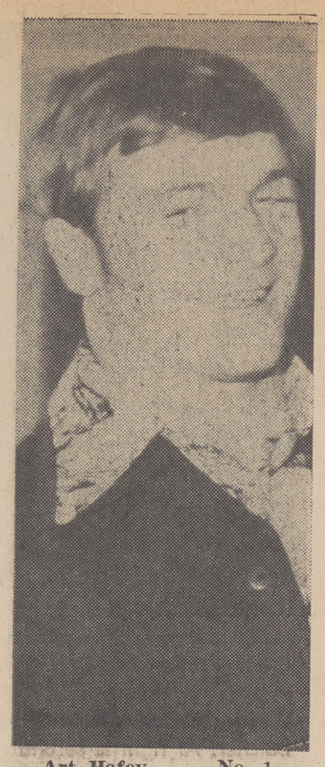
In other business:

Right winger Gary Bredin has been acquired by the Mariners in an intraleague trade with the Denver Spurs. Denver received left winger Bill Goldthorpe in the straight player deal.

Bredin, 27, had four goals and three assists in 18 games with Denver this season. Included in his total were two game winning goals and a power play tally.

Bredin formerly played with Seattle in the 1972-73 Western League campaign and was with American League Rochester for two years.

Goldthorpe, who had been sent to San Diego's North American League affiliate in Binghamton last Friday, had one goal and 30 penalty minutes in 14 games with the Mariners.



Art Hafey . . . No. 1

Art Hafey Wins Latin-American Press Ring Award

Art Hafey, San Diego's popular featherweight boxer, was named "Fighter of the Year" Friday night at the Latin-American Press Club's annual awards banquet in Pico Rivera.

Welterweight Armando Muniz won the "Outstanding Fight" award for his fight against José Napoles last summer in Mexico City where Napoles was given the decision on the basis of a "butt" by Muniz in the fourth round.

Hafey, so far this year, has racked up a 10-0 record.

At the banquet Superior Court Judge Leo Poldo Sanchez, of Los Angeles was named "Fan of the Year" but refused the award "until Art Hafey is recognized by boxing interests in Los Angeles and given a bout with the champion." Hafey is listed No. 1 by Ring Magazine. David Kotey, of Ghana, is present featherweight champion.

Hafey is 24.

Motocross Finals Set for Anaheim

ANAHEIM (Nov. 19) — The cream of this country's motocross talent will be competing at the American Motocross Finals December 13 in the Anaheim Stadium according to promoter Mike Goodwin.

"It's going to be a battle between the best motocross racers in America," he said.

The field of riders expected to compete in the December 13 event includes national champions Marty Smith, Jim Ellis, Tony DeStefano, Jim Weinert and Marty Tripes. $20,000 prize money will be divided by the winners.

Presence of these five riders guarantees a strong field for the first running of the American Motocross Finals. Smith, a Team Honda rider, is currently U.S. Motocross Champion in the 250cc, and Weinert (Yamaha) is 500cc champ. Jimmy Ellis, for Can-Am, was this year's winner at the Oly Superbowl of Motocross, and Marty Tripes, a Bultaco-riding legend at 19, has twice been Oly Superbowl victor.

The course, estimated to cost $100,000 to design and construct, will cover the baseball field and beyond in Anaheim Stadium and will feature drops, jumps, steep climbs, and demanding sets of hairpin turns.

"It's going to be a brutal course," said Goodwin. "We took the most difficult conditions from a number of courses that exist in nature, and we engineered them together into one, man-made monster. It's like a combination of a roller-coaster and a stream bed. It'll be hell to ride on. These motocross racers willl love it."

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Thanksgiving. The day set aside by our glorious leaders to pay honor to all those good things we have and hold. It's a day of reflection. A day of remembering. A day of gratitude.

But what do you say to Tommy Prothro? How do you call forth a review of his year without getting a punch in the mouth?

Confucius say, "A wise man will keep his lip buttoned when in presence of coach who is oooh and ten. Only a fool will smile at a man with such a torment."

Sorry, Tom. Even Cleveland won last Sunday. Here it is, November almost in the bag, Thanksgiving Day upon us and Tommy Prothro is the only maiden in the National Football League.

That doesn't mean his behemoths aren't trying. They have come as close as a yard, not once, but twice, a fact which keeps folks hooked on Charger doings and wondering aloud when the breaks are going to turn their way.

Now some folks think football is only a game in which fans get four quarters to down a fifth. But the new rules of gridiron combat even allow for a "fifth" quarter, whatever that is.

The Chargers used a "fifth" quarter, (a term that certainly seems to unite conflicting terms, something like "Impotence is on the rise") earlier, during the exhibition potency is on the rise") earlier during the exhibition season and came away with a tie.

Unfortunately, that was the last time Prothro's pachyderms paraded as non-losers.

Thanksgiving Day for Tommy. Bah. Humbug. It's just another day for work. The Chargers travel to mile-high Denver Sunday to encounter the Broncos, a John Ralston led crew that blew a chance to go .500 last Sunday at Atlanta.

Ralston certainly wants another win over the lead-footed luggers in Charger lightning bolts. Ralston's Rogues whipped Gene Klein's prized herd 27-17 just two weeks ago and another win would give them a so-so grade on the year. And Oakland, Philadelphia and Miami follow the Chargers to the line of scrimmage against the Broncs.

Facing the fallout of this campaign, Klein may look at his bank balance, dwindling crowds, fleeting support and unloving environment and charge Prothro with an Oliver-to-Stanleyism . . . "Another fine mess you've got us into."

Klein would like to be loved in his adopted town. He'd like to bask in the reflection of a winner. A money making winner, to be sure, but still, he would like to brag to his friends about his team.

When Sid Gillman ran the show, it was HIS team, even though Klein picked up the tab.

And one and all will remember there was nothing to brag about under Harland Svare's reign. Prothro too, has been a disappointment to the herd of bleacher-seated quarterbacks.

Tommy hasn't lost his fan support, for some reason or other. Folks still equate Charger behavior with Klein and Svare. Somehow the string of disasters listed as the season standings are not related to Tom's stewardship.

Fans make excuses for him. "He hasn't got the players." "The schedule is against him." "Too many injuries." "No experience in the defensive line." and the unkindest of all, "They're snakebit."

While most of the excuses fit the Chargers, they also fit every other club in the NFL, give or take a yard. While the Chargers schedule was tough, they played most of the tough ones at home. (Oakland, on the other hand, opened with five on the road and stand 8-2 to lead the division).

Tommy will stay deep in the pits this week, trying to conjure up a victure or two from the likes of Denver (4-6), Kansas City (5-5), New York Jets (2-8), and Cincinnati (8-2).

But it just ain't advised to walk up, slap Tommy Prothro on the back and smile "Happy Thanksgiving Day," into his face. Smart as he is, Tommy doesn't remember that football is only a game.

Lujan Wins 25th in Row In Local Split Decision

It wasn't a bad turn-out for an opening boxing card. About 1,500 fans attended Danny Millsap's debut as a boxing impressario at the San Diego Sports Arena Wednesday night last week.

The main attraction — a 10-round featherweight bout, produced a split decision with Manny Lujan, the San Diego high school youth winning his 25th fight without a loss. He has had 26 professional fights.

Lujan gained the split over Ahmed Bey, of Ghana via Los Angeles with judge Fred Hayes clocking it 5-3 for Lujan; referee Frank Rustich having it 5-4, Lujan and judge Hal Rickards seeing it 4-3 for Bey. This writer saw it 4-2 Bey. Lujan is popular in San Diego but nonetheless ringsiders chanted "hometown decision!"

Lujan's timing was off, Bey caught him flush in the face several times with both rights and lefts. Although Bey had been knocked out three weeks earlier in Las Vegas, he was a strong, determined fighter against Lujan.

In a lightweight co-main 10-rounder, San Diego's Miguel Mayon, won an undisputed decision over Nacho Castenada of Los Angeles.

In prelims, Santiago Meza, San Ysidro won a four round junior lightweight fight over Pat Reyes of San Diego. Basilio Onate, of San Ysidro outlasted Vic de la Cruz of Carpenteria in 6 rounds.

The next fight under Millsap's direction will be Tuesday, December 16. That card, as was the first, permitted fans to attend without paying a parking fee.

Aztecs Lose 21-17; Penrose Takes Title

San Diego State quarterback Craig Penrose nailed down the NCAA Passing Title Saturday night by hitting on 24 of 44 passes for 251 yards in a 21-17 loss to Long Beach State.

Penrose finished the season with 198 completions in 349 attempts for 2660 yards and 15 touchdowns. He had 24 pesses intercepted. Craig's per game completion average of 18.0 was better than second place finishers Gene Swick of Toledo and Steve Myer of New Mexico, who both finished with 17.2 completions per game.

Penrose's 2660 yards passing and per game average of 241.8 yards were also the best in the country.

Other passing winners are Brian Sipe (1971) and Jesse Freitas (1973) and total offense winners Dennis Shaw (1969) and Freitas (1973).

The Aztecs also wrapped up their fourth NCAA Team Passing Title in seven years, finishing with a per game average of 291.3 yards. San Diego State had previously won the crown in 1969, 1971 and 1973.

Despite Penrose's passing efforts, the Aztecs lost their third game in a row and finished the season with an 8-3 mark.

"It was a very disappointing loss," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "We weren't a very good football team and things just didn't seem to go our way.

"We're just going to have to go out now and recruit some new players. "We're going to have to recruit some super running backs and defensive linemen for next year if we expect to keep winning."

Here's Celeb Program For Andy Williams Open

An unprecedented turnout of celebrities from the entertainment and sports world will compete in the Pro-Am division of the Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament February 11-15 at Torrey Pines course.

No less than 30 notables from TV, stage, motion pictures and the field of sports have already signaled their intention to compete in the one-day celebrity event February 11, tournament officials announced.

Many more are expected in the almost three months before tournament time.

Bob Hope, a "regular" during most of the past eight AWSDO's, heads the list of those expected here. Sharing top billing with Hope are comedians Jerry Lewis and Don Knotts, actor Robert Stack and tournament host Andy Williams.

'Laugh-In' and 'Hee Haw'

Dick Martin of "Laugh-In" fame will play here along with such other well-known television personalities as Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. of "The F.B.I.," Martin Milner of "Adam 12," Buck Owens of "Hee Haw," Wayne Rogers and McLean Stevenson, both formerly of "Mash," Forrest Tucker of "The Ghost Hunters," Gene Barry of "The Name of the Game," and quiz show emcees, Dennis James of "The Magnificent Mable Machine" and Peter Marshall of "Hollywood Squares."

Comedians Jan Murray, Jack Carter, and Mickey Manners, physical culturist Jack La Lanne, singer Jimmy Rodgers, band leader Ray Coniff and actor Robert Sterling round out the list of show biz celebs.

Sports figures include Don Sutton, Randy Jones and Don Drysdale from baseball, Sid Gillman, Paul (Bear) Bryant, and Tom Harmon from football, Pancho Gonzales from tennis, and race drivers Bill Vukovich and Dan Gurney.

Evel Knievel, who visited the golf tournament here last February, hopes to be able to compete this year in the Celebrity Pro-Am.

The Pro-Am will be held over both north and south Torrey Pines courses with players competing in five-somes. Professionals assigned one to each group will vie for $10,000 in cash awards. Amateurs from all over the nation will participate in the Pro-Am, entries for which are being accepted at the Mission Valley headquarters of the Century Club, co-sponsor of the AWSDO with Andy Williams.

Drag Race in Carlsbad To Aid 'Toys for Tots'

One of the year's biggest Semi-Pro drag racing events is on tap for this Sunday, at Carlsbad Raceway.

Although the annual toy drive does not start until the next day, the November 30th race will serve as an unofficial kick-off for the U.S. Marines "Toys for Tots" program.

Working in conjunction with the Raceway staff, the "4th Tank Battalion" Marine Corps unit will be in charge of the toy portion of the day's festivities.

The track management is offering a special enticement to spectators; they will give a free pit-pass to all who donate new or good usable toys to the Marines. Area residents interested only in donating toys may do so at the front gate.

Cars from over the Western United States are entered in the "Toys for Tots" race, with Dean Shank of Vista, Tim Nichols of San Diego and Dick Callagy from La Mesa, among the favorites in their respective divisions. Experts predict the showdown for top honors will involve all three.

Gates will open at 8 a.m., with time trials and warm-up runs until 11:30 p.m.

Championship Eliminations are scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m. Completion time for the day's racing action is anticipated to be 5 p.m.

Carlsbad Raceway is located between Escondido and Carlsbad, on Palomar-Airport Road; 5-miles East of Interstate-5. For additional information, call: (213) 434-5001 or (714) 727-1171.

About Your Health

This feature is a publication of the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Association, headquartered at 731 Market st., San Francisco, 94103.

Nuclear Medicine

When a chemical element is unstable in its atomic make-up it is called radioactive, and the resultant materials are called radioisotopes. Some isotopes, such as radium and uranium, occur in nature; but most of those that are used for medical purposes, either diagnostic or therapeutic, are artifically created.

As a radioactive substance seeks to regain its stability, it releases energy in a range of forms and at varying rates. It is this released energy, selectively used, that has made radioisotopes of increasing use to medical science and has given impetus to the development of nuclear medicine as an accepted medical specialty.

The development of new radioactive drugs and improvements in the equipment involved in the use of these materials has expanded the possible medical uses of radioisotopes. The newer radioisotopes release their energy rapidly so that large amounts can be given to patients with very low accompanying risks of radiation exposure. In other words, nuclear medicine today not only finds out more, but does so faster, with greater accuracy and with less risk to the patient.

Helps Diagnose

One of the most familiar applications of radioisotopes for diagnostic purposes is the use of radioactive iodine to measure the rate of thyroid hormone production by the thyroid gland. Radioactive drugs can also determine the uniformity of the blood supply to different portions of the lungs; gather information about the brain, heart, major blood vessels, kidneys, pancreas and liver; and achieve early detection of the spread of a tumor.

In some instances the presence of drugs, hormones and chemical compounds in a patient's blood or urine is of such quantity that it cannot be detected by the usual laboratory analysis. By the use of minute quantities of radioactive materials, the levels of Digoxin, thyroid hormones, human growth hormones, thyroid-stimulating hormones, and many other substances having health implications can now be measured in the patient's blood, serum, or urine samples.

As a Treatment

The use of radioisotopes for the treatment of disorders includes the administration of radioactive iodine to reduce the function of an overactive thyroid gland and, in some instances, to treat special types of thyroid tumors. In some cases, radioisotopes are used to delay or try to prevent the spread of cancer and occasionally to treat a variety of abnormalities of the blood system.

Nuclear medicine has made such impressive headway in recent years that it is now required that all hospitals who seek approved hospital accreditation must offer nuclear services. Equally significant is the fact that in 1972 a specialty board in Nuclear Medicine was established, sponsored by the existing medical specialty boards in Pathology, Radiology, and Internal Medicine. Nuclear medicine is now recognized as a vital part of the total practice of medicine.

Aztec Cagers Open Season

San Diego State's basketball team opens the 1975-76 season this week with a pair of road games.

Friday the Aztecs will meet Washington State in a game that will be played in Spokane and on December 1 the Aztecs meet Idaho State in Pocatello. Both games can be heard on KFMB Radio (760) with Ron Reina calling the action.

Coach Tim Vezie has nine lettermen back from last year's team that finished 14-13 and played in the NCAA Regionals. Vezie has all five starters back this year.

Leading the Aztecs' hopes this year are front line players Steve Copp and Will Connelly. Copp is the team's 6-7 forward; second leading scorer (13.8) and second leading rebounder (9.1). He was voted first team All-PCAA, team MVP, and second team Academic All-America. He carries a 3.92 grade point average and is a Rhodes Scholar candidate. He is a 6-7 forward.

Connelly, a 6-8 center, led the Aztecs in scoring (17.7) and rebounding (9.2). He is a 6-8 center.

Other starters are 6-6 forward Bob Kovach, 6-3 wing guard Gary Earle and 6-1 point man Ray Leary. Kovach averaged 12.3 points and 5.7 rebounds last year, Earle 7.0 points and Leary 6.6 points while handing out 99 assists.

Garduno to Manage Agua Caliente Track

TIJUANA — Jesus Garduno of Mexico City has assumed duties as general manager of Agua Caliente Race Track, replacing Manuel Ratner who has retired after serving in that position since the new track opened in May of last year.

Garduno, 40, is a graduate of the National University of Mexico with a doctorate in business administration and for the past six years has acted as an advisor in financial planning. He also is in the administration of a number of firms in Mexico City.

Highways Take Estimated $31 Billion Annual Toll

There are 3,786,000 miles of highways in the United States. Most are not toll roads, but American roads and streets do take a sizable toll in traffic accident costs each year — over $31 billion worth, this year, according to a projection by the Insurance Information Institute.

The Institute's estimate of the accident losses for the first six months of 1975 stands at over $15.5 billion, a 24.5 per cent increase over the cost of crashes during the same period in 1974.

Traffic deaths for the period, reported by the National Safety Council, totaled 21,260, up 3 percent. Institute compilations show that injuries were up 10.8 per cent and traffic accidents up 6.6 per cent.

The Institute noted that the near 25 per cent increase in economic losses reflects inflationary jumps in the costs of medical care and auto repairs.

Estimated economic loss figures take into account such factors are property damage, medical and funeral expenses, lost wages, legal fees and service costs of insurance.

'One Stop' Voter Registration At DMV Nets 9,000 New Voters

The new voter registration service extended to Department of Motor Vehicles offices has added almost 9,000 California citizens to the list of eligible voters, according to DMV director Herman Sillas.

Acting on a strong endorsement for the program from Secretary of State March Fong Eu and a number of county clerks, the DMV began its voter registration service September 15. 607 employees in 144 of its 147 field offices were deputized to register voters. Deputies were trained by registrars of the 52 counties participating in the program.

6.8 Minutes

In the first seven weeks of the program, counties paid over $1,200 in fees to the state motor vehicle account to compensate for the time taken from the employees' regular duties. A survey showed that 6.8 minutes was the average time to take a voter registration affidavit.

Most counties pay a per-voter affidavit fee, ranging from five cents to 35 cents, the latter being San Diego's fee.

"We offered the one-stop convenience," Sillas said, "because it made sense to us that when a person moves into a new county and comes into one of our offices, he or she should be able to register to vote while taking care of driver's license or vehicle registration business."

Knudson Loses $3,000

A pry tool was used to enter the residence of Donald R. Knudson, 1450 Janice st., Spring Valley, on November 18 while he was away.

Hiss loss, he told sheriff's deputies, was $3,000 in savings bonds. They were in denominations of $25 and $100.

Space Theatre Reopens Sunday

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater in Balboa Park reopened Saturday showing "Probes in Space" and "Viva Baja". Also with the reopening the theater returns to its former schedule of eight shows on Saturday, seven shows on Sunday and five shows Monday through Friday.

For the past three weeks sheetmetal workers have replaced the entire interior surface of the theater's "screen" which is actually a hemisphere. After the former surface was removed workers secured about 900 pieces of perforated aluminum alloy to the steel girders which form the dome structure. Each piece of new surface was put in position by hand and joined to adjacent pieces by riveting overlapping joints.

The Space Theater's dome is 76 feet in diameter, about the height of a seven story building. The interior surface is a little over 8,000 square feet.

Shows start at 10:30 Saturdays; noon, Sundays, and 1 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Says Drinking In Office is Sups Prerogative

Dear Editor:

I would like to take exception with your article regarding the Board of Supervisors action on a proposal to prohibit the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in county "offices."

Your headline "Supervisor Conde Loses Bid to Keep Other Sups Sober" is irresponsible since it implies that the other Supervisors are not sober or that they drink on the job. I would like your readers to know that I do not drink nor do I allow alcohol in my office. I also have a sign in my office requesting that visitors refrain from smoking.

If there are other Supervisors who wish to allow their staffs to consume an alcoholic beverage after hours, and many staff members often put in long hours of overtime, that is their prerogative. The implication that Supervisors and/or their staffs are drinking on the job is not only false but offensive and a dis-service to the public and the elected representatives.

Further, it should be noted that the proposed policy was filed and that it would have applied not only to county offices but to all county facilities. As one Supervisor noted, it could even prohibit a picnic at a county park where beer or wine was included in the picnic basket. The Board's action will have no detrimental impact on the problem of alcohol abuse because the proposed action was not a solution to that problem.

Sincerely,
Jim Bates
Supervisor,
Fourth District
County of San Diego

Phones Ring When Jones Sends Bills

When James E. Jones, the County Tax Collector implemented a new policy this year of sending tax information statements to property owners who do not ordinarily see their bills, he got a pretty good reaction.

His phones started to ring and are still ringing with fair regularity. Taxpayers had questions and they need answers.

These were mostly the more than 200,000 property owners whose taxes are paid by their lending agencies. It was the first time some of them knew the amount of their tax obligation.

Jones said 900 recipients said they had paid off their mortgage or were no longer paying through impound accounts.

In addition there were those who wanted the bill compared with last year's, and others had questions about various taxing agencies to which they were paying. Some even commented the office for furnishing the information to taxpayers.

One of the great benefits, Jones said, is that for the first time property owners who pay taxes through lenders will know how much and to what taxing agencies they are paying.

Several thousand of the inmation statements were returned as undeliverable.

December 10 is deadline for paying the first installment without penalty. Those who have not yet received a tax bill or an information statement should call the tax collector's office at 236-3121.

Failure to get a bill does not avert the penaltp charge.

Wholesale Burglary —Three in a Block

Three neighboring residents of the 8800 block of Delrose ave., Spring Valley, reported to the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office on November 17 that they had been burglarized.

Joe Lewis Bone said his stereo equipment, worth $100, was taken from his home while he was sleeping.

Alfred Sanders, also reported the loss of stereo equipment. His was worth $90, he said.

Carl Rogers Smith said various pieces of equipment were taken from his place on the same day. His loss, he said, was $375.

Within hours, sheriff's men rounded up two 17-year old white youths and recovered the loot reported stolen—and much more.

In the home of one youth — he had a crime record of 8 charges — officers found a skilsaw, tape deck, auto radio, whip antenna, power converter, Baja bug lights, and various other tools and electronic equipment.

The two were charged with the burglaries.

Homeowner's Property Tax Exemption Filing Deadline is Dec. 1

Monday is the filing deadline for the homeowners' property tax exemption, John Lynch, State Board of Equalization chairman, reminds.

At present, Lynch said, new owners of residential property are required to file for the exemption by April 15. However, the law specifies that if a new homeowner, occupying a dwelling as his principal residence on March 1, misses the April 15 deadline, he may file by December 1 and receive 80 per cent of the homeowners' property tax exemption.

Also, Lynch said, a late filing caused by the assessor's failure to mail the form may be accepted up to December 1 of the calendar year in which the claimant missed filing, for the claimant to receive 100 per cent of his exemption.

By December 1, even if the homeowner has not received a claim form, he will have received his annual property tax bill or a copy, which serves to notify him that he has not been allowed the homeowners' exemption. If he is eligible, he should file for it immediately.

Drug Store Prints Misleading Info on Generic Substitution

The California Department of Consumer Affairs has requested a drug store chain to correct misinformation concerning generic substitution of prescription drugs published in a recent advertisement.

The ad stated that all pharmacies must fill prescriptions exactly as a doctor orders. The information was incorrect since current regulations permit a pharmacist to substitute generic equivalents for name-brand drugs prescribed by a doctor.

The misinformation appeared in a Longs Drugs ad in a Sacramento newspaper.

Generic substitution of prescription drugs without the need for a physician's authorization has been permitted in California since July 3. On that date an emergency substitution of prescription drugs became effective.

'Hippie' Cops Nearly Wreck County Auto Theft Business

By Max Goodwin

There's an intriguing story just emerging in which two area sheriff's detectives were paid to "go hippie" to stem the growing auto theft industry.

The men operated secretly for almost two years and in conjunction with other elements of other law enforcement jurisdictions; accounted for 69 arrests, and the recovery of more than $210,000 in stolen vehicles.

With a grant of $57,000 from the federal Law Enforcement Assistant Administration (LEAA), $5,000 from the state and $14,000 from the county, the sheriff tapped two capable, young detectives — Bob Williams and Neil Willoughby —for the job.

They had been tested through more than a combined total of 17 years in the department and possessed the resourcefulness needed to keep an underground cover.

'Catfish'

Because hippies can more easily identify with people who are involved in vehicle thefts, they were ordered to grow full beards and let their hair reach their shoulders. The nickname "Catfish" fits Williams to a tee.

During their LEAA grant effort they associated with hippie, gang and hood types. Their dress and mannerisms were so realistic that no one questioned "hippie-hood" during their underground operation.

That was fortunate. Gang criminals don't play games. A busted cover could have been fatal.

Some Knew

What added to the hazard was that they were well-known to many legitimate contacts — mostly business people in various automotive fields. These people gave the two-man team tips and information — and received advice and protection. They also kept contacts with all the other jurisdictions in a running exchange of information.

As the team made contacts with legitimate auto dealers they schooled them in modis operandi of auto theft rings. In an area dealership, after they met with the management, the team went out to the lot and found 17 new cars unlocked — each inviting a thief to take it. The dealer's awareness increased from that moment.

Local Losses

In another instance a local dealer was already the victim of four auto thefts. He was victimized by thieves having duplicate keys made when they tried out his cars. They returned at night and drove off. They followed a trail until it led to two suspects. They admitted their guilt and are in jail. They said they drove the cars to Tijuana and traded them for dope.

Auto theft leads came from many directions. Sheriff's deputies on patrol turned in tips. So did other agencies. People in the auto business frequently reported anything that appeared out of the ordinary. The team took all the information they could get and diligently worked it.

Hippie Shoppers

They didn't depend on others entirely. They answered newspaper want-ads for parts. For sale signs along side roads produced suspects. And hippie acquaintances unwittingly supplied leads. The two said they got more information from strangers in the period they worked as hippies than they got during their years on the sheriff's force.

It was sheer circumstance that uncovered one of the big heavy equipment theft rings earlier this year. The team ran up to a Ramona horse ranch to pick up a felon on a Los Angeles warrant. There were a goodly number of heavy equipment pieces parked about.

Theft Briefing

A few days earlier they had attended an auto theft detail briefing and were told of a growing list of losses of construction equipment. They nosed about long enough to copy the numbers. All of it was stolen. Officers of various jurisdictions had been working on the case, too, and they recovered the equipment after arresting there suspects from Los Angeles and a fence in Porterville. The bust closed 27 hijackings and recovered as much as $250,000 in equipment from as far away as Oklahoma and Texas.

Some of the recovery included a $12,000 crawler tractor, a $30,000 water truck, a $25,000 backhoe, big trucks, a tractor trailer, a flat bed and dump trucks, and various other pieces of equipment.

Widely Used

The team was used more and more as time passed. Because of their undercover experience, their knowledge of people in the racket, their familiarity with trucks and their appearance which allowed them to mingle with criminal types, they were often used for surveillance and identification.

A recent case involved both the Sheriff's Department and the District Attorney's office. The DA had information that many camper trucks being stolen were stockpiled here while the camper shells were transported to Los Angeles for quick sale. Camper shell registration is far less complicated than for vehicles so the thieves had a quick market for them.

In this caper the sheriff's team had it easy. The District Attorney made arrangements fo the "truck owners" to call a certain number and arrange for the sale.

Hard Sell

The number was that of the DA. The DA was a tough bargainer but in the end he "allowed himself to be talked into buying." The trucks were to be delivered on a certain night at a Chula Vista restaurant parking lot. He would purchase only late model Ford pickups for $300 a truck.

On the night that the trucks were to be delivered, sheriff's detectives and district attorney officers were there.

As the vehicles arrived, some as close together as four minutes, deputy district attornies took delivery on six trucks and allowed each of the sellers to go.

They arrested the 7th seller after being assured that he was a member of the selling group. He would be used for identifying the others.

Soon an eighth man came to pick up number 7. He was arrested.

Hardly minutes later a 9th member came to get his share of the money. He, too, was arrested.

All Club Members

As it turned out —records indicated — all were members of the Hell's Angels' motorcycle organization.

An industry, such as car stealing, can make experts in other fields. For example, when one of the first trucks was delivered, a DA complained about the truck having to be hot-wired. He wanted a key. The seller whipped out a miniature keymaking rig and in a couple of minutes the new owner drove the truck away by key — an unexpected bonus.

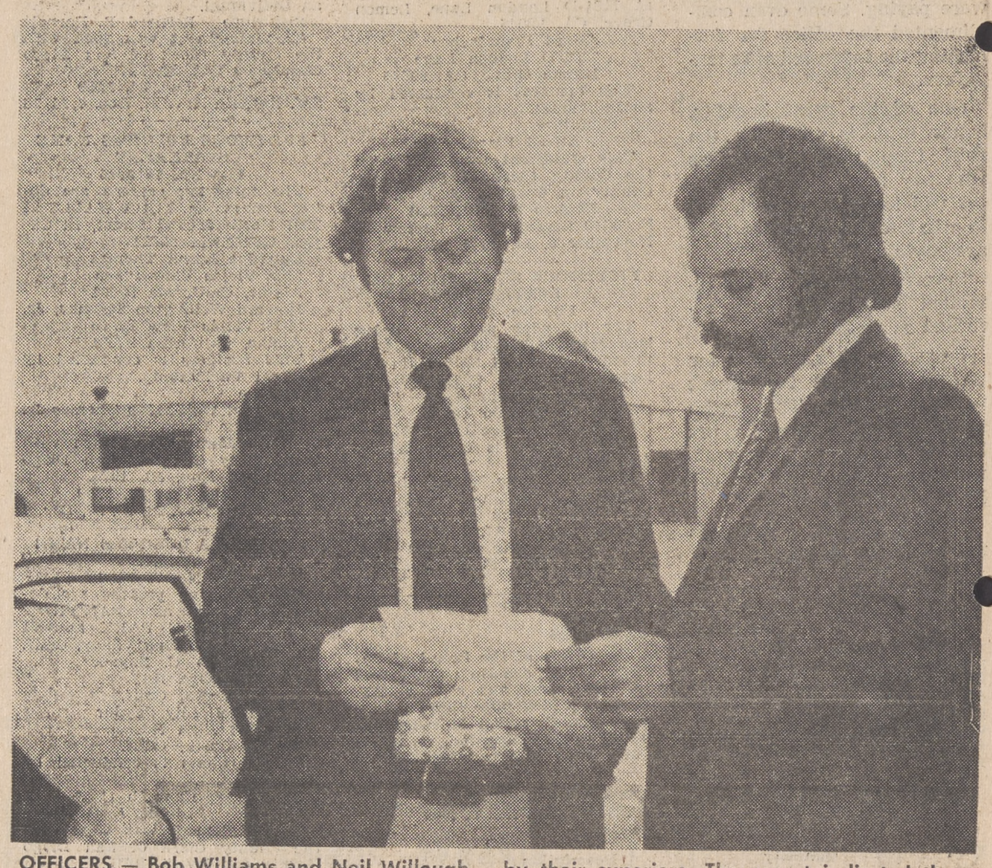
The undercover project ended several months ago when the funds for the project were depleted although the story couldn't be told until all of the subjects were brought to court.

But there is no question about the project being one of the more successful ones of its type in San Diego. In addition to putting a damper on vehicle thefts all over the county, the ripple effect continues.

San Diego auto thieves are now more nervous than ever. They can not be sure whether the deal they are making on a riped-off car is with a LEAA sponsored undercover cop.

For a car thief, that could be embarrassing!

HIPPIES — A local driver is being interrogated by sheriff's detectives dressed as hippies. This was the daily garb of Neil Willoughby, leaning, and Bob "Catfish" Williams, who were working on an undercover auto theft project for nearly two years.



OFFICERS — Bob Williams and Neil Willoughby, back in normal street clothes sheriff's detectives, looking over a report handed down by their superiors. The report indicated that the pair had been most successful in undercover auto theft project.

Knob Wrenches Off

Edwin Stanley Rhoades thought something was amiss when he came home about 9 p.m. on November 14 and fonund the front door to his house open.

Rhodes, who lives at 1845 69th st., Lemon Grove, said a teevee set, camera, tape recorder and $60 in currency was the loss — all of which stood him about $300.

Sheriff's deputies opioned that the burglar had used a wrench to twist the knob off the door.
